OUR SERVICES

COMMERCIAL CLEANING

A clean office environment is a key component of a modern, effective organisation. It not only affects a company's brand persona and client perception; it also has major role to play for employee health and wellbeing.

From reception area, offices, meeting rooms, washrooms to kitchens we can customize the cleaning process to meet your exact requirements including frequency, depth of clean and disinfectants used. All our office cleaners are well trained to deliver any type of commercial cleaning work for any type of business.

WINDOW CLEANING

Apart from adding an unparalleled aesthetic value, windows are also utilitarian, allowing the circulation of natural ventilation into your home or office. However, as time goes, it is natural for windows to witness a build-up of grease, grime, and airborne contaminants and at that point, rubbing or scrubbing won't just do- in fact it might even damage your windows.

As professional window cleaners based in Victoria and Tasmania, we use specialized equipment to clean both sides of your window, with professional-grade equipment to ensure your windows get a spot-free and streak-free shine.

FLOOR CLEANING

CARPET CLEANING

Carpets are comfortable, soft and simply makes your home feel warm and cozy. Carpets, however, are also the residence of choice for dirt, dust, bacteria, and far worse. They often require an effective deep cleaning process for stain removal. At Quantra, we can provide customised cleaning solutions for your home or office based in Victoria and Tasmania.

FLOOR POLISHING

While you might take the best effort to maintain flooring by dusting and using floor cleaners, your flooring can still look dull, with scratches and stains. At Quantra, our floor polishing experts have definite knowledge and understanding of every kind of floor and can help you regain the lost shine and sleek look your home or commercial property deserves.

TILE & GROUT CLEANING

Tiles are attractive and durable and so it's often used in homes and public areas; but with tile comes grout. No matter how immaculate your tile is, the grout may remain dingy, stained, or dark – and that's not a reflection of the cleanliness of your home. When you choose Quantra for your tile and grout cleaning, we will remove the dirt build-up using advanced tile cleaning techniques and professional disinfectants that are guaranteed to restore the lost shine.

INDUSTRIAL CLEANING

At Quantra, we possess an in-depth knowledge about the cleaning requirements of industrial and manufacturing sectors. We understand that it requires specific considerations, specialist services and regular maintenance- all of which the expert team at Quantra are ready to provide you with.

With our offices based in Victoria and Tasmania, we can work with you daily, weekly or with any schedule compatible to your business. Equipped with modern equipment and resources, our versatile and qualified team can handle simple to complex cleaning tasks, with utmost efficiency, making sure you are satisfied with our efforts.

END-OF-LEASE CLEANING

EMERGENCY CLEANING

Emergencies can happen anytime, anywhere but the most defining reaction to any emergency is how fast you can act. A burst water main from construction, backed up toilet overnight or any other disaster you were not prepared for can wreck havoc in your life. At Quantra, our vast experience in emergency cleaning means that we can deal with them in a prompt, safe and legally compliant manner.

We are not like any other end of lease cleaning services in Melbourne; We inspect your location first, visit each area of your interior and exterior, and decide what type of cleaning your house or office requires. Sometimes your property may be in good condition and require only a touch-up of professional cleaning services. If you require deep cleaning to remove stubborn stains that have been there for years and never been addressed, we have the expert knowledge and experience to provide you the required service to get the job done professionally.

At Quantra, we understand that every commercial or residential property requires its own tailor made cleaning programme and we ensure that the premises can be returned to the landlord in the condition set out in your lease agreement. Once our services are called for, we'll ensure the turnaround is completed quickly and thoroughly so your move will be as stress-free as possible.
